

MAY 21st – 22nd
2024 VIENNA

WITH KEYNOTE PERSONALITIES FROM THE NPLI

N P NATIONAL
L I PREPAREDNESS
LEADERSHIP
INITIATIVE

AT HARVARD UNIVERSITY

LEADERSHIP PREPAREDNESS SYMPOSIUM

META-LEADERSHIP FOR RESILIENT INDUSTRIES AND CRITICAL INFRASTRUCTURE

COMPLIANCE GUIDELINE

PROTECTION OF BUSINESS SECRETS

- It is essential that no information is shared that could reveal trade secrets, confidential strategies or other sensitive company information.
- Content that could potentially jeopardize business interests or company security must be excluded from presentations and discussions.

STATE SECURITY AND PUBLIC ORDER

- Content that could be interpreted as threatening to state security or public order is not permitted. This includes topics that could support extremist views or encourage illegal activities.
- All thematic contributions must be in accordance with the legal framework and must not contain any information that could be misused against state institutions.

DATA PROTECTION

- Personal data will be handled in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and local data protection laws, with freedom and security of information being a top priority.
- Participants are required to take measures to ensure the protection of sensitive information and prevent unauthorized access.

ETHICS AND INTEGRITY

- The concepts and ideas shared during the Symposium must be ethical and must not be used to support unethical practices.
- Respectful behavior and professionalism towards the contributions and ideas of other participants are essential to the success of the symposium.

CODE OF CONDUCT

- Respectful interaction and the rejection of discrimination in any form of inappropriate behavior are essential.
- In the event of non-compliance with these principles, the organizers reserve the right to take appropriate action to protect the integrity of the symposium.

CONCLUSION

- This guideline serves as the basis for a safe, productive and ethically responsible symposium. Adherence to these compliance regulations will ensure the success of our event and promote an open, safe platform for exchange of ideas. We thank everyone involved for their support and commitment to upholding these standards.

VERY RESPECTFULLY, THANK YOU.